Jurassic Coast International Audio Visual Salon

Hosted by Exmouth Photo Group

Welcome to the Jurassic Coast International AV Salon, run by Exmouth Photo Group. This is the fifth year of the competition, which has both PAGB and FIAP patronage.

Why Jurassic Coast? Exmouth is at the western end of the Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site, which runs for ninety-five miles to Old Harry Rocks in Dorset. Our logo shows the Geoneedle, which marks its start.

The Competition is for digitally-produced Audio Visual sequences with a sound-track, and has three categories:

Open:

The choice is completely up to the author and can include any style of sequence – e.g Documentary, Travel, Theme, Nature etc.

Music, Poetry, Song:

The sequence will illustrate a piece of Music, a Poem or a Song. This may be creative or strongly representative.

New for this year, AV Sans Frontières:

To acknowledge the emerging genre of imagery generated by artificial intelligence (AI), we have introduced this category as an experimental section. Neither FIAP nor the PAGB allow AI generated images, so this new section will sit outside of the main Salon and entries will not be eligible for FIAP Acceptances nor FIAP/PAGB awards.

17	Alan Boothman	Mad World	Using Motion Photos, Still Images, and Video, a message of contemporary confusion is developed to a haunting rendition of Mad World from the soundtrack of the film Donnie Darko. One consequence of the resulting ignorance is shown in the devastating flames around Los Angeles California.	MPS	England	03:06
18	Susan Lemieux	Great Pretenders	This video is a totally whimsical number designed solely to entertain. It celebrates make-believe, child-like curiosity, and the joy of pretending.	Open	Canada	03:22
19	Keith Leedham	The Coffee Shop	None Supplied	Open	England	04:00
20	Dimitrios Theodorakis	Sound from Images	The inspiration for this AV came from some work I was doing turning climate data into sound. This process is called sonification and I thought why not try it at home on some of my images. It turns out images are a lot harder to turn into anything resembling music than climate data! I chose three images where I could imagine the instruments and what they might sound like; then used some code and free software to convert the image data into musical notes. This AV contains the end results for the images, the first two are simpler pieces with three instruments. The last image is the most complex piece with data taken from six different strips of the image for the six instruments.	Open	England	04:16
21	Roberto Rognini & Mario Costa	ImMondo	In this audiovisual, imperfect images created with generative artificial intelligence and digitally processed photographs were used as a metaphor to represent the world contaminated by our irresponsible behavior.	AI	Italy	05:15
22	John Perriam	Voyager	Ethereal abstract images set to music.	MPS	England	03:40
23	Jean Claude LEROI	Celestial Exhibition	Once upon a time there was a daring space mission aiming at transporting into space Vasarely's emblematic artworks. That space exhibition became the symbol of human ingenuity and of our capacity to push further the limits of imagination. That Art in space, is a never-ending quest of discovery and understanding of the universe around us.	Open	France	05:03
